

Pocket the difference

Save up to 90% on international data roaming charges with our portable Wi-Fi solutions.

DoubleEdge pocket-sized data roaming solutions create personal Wi-Fi hotspots that simplify the challenge of controlling mobile charges, optimise productivity and cut the cost of doing business abroad. Our flexible, managed services are tailored to meet individual business needs and designed to give your corporate international travellers the high performance connectivity they need to work from anywhere.

A better way to connect, wherever you are

Internationally mobile businesses need the right combination of technology and connectivity for executives to stay productive wherever they're working. Today's communication devices are powerful and sophisticated but their performance is often compromised by the high cost of global data roaming, particularly in countries outside the EU. When your international offices have different roaming footprints, use multiple domestic operators and have no unified data roaming tariff, costs can easily run away.

DoubleEdge global mobile data solutions use the latest pocket-sized, portable Wi-Fi devices to provide business travellers with their own personal, secure Internet hotspot, wherever they are. Each Wi-Fi device comes with its own, pre-configured intelligent SIM, and our special agreements with the world's leading international mobile operators enable wireless data connectivity through local network providers in 216 countries for BlackBerry, smartphones, tablets and laptops.

Made-to-measure services

- Bespoke managed solutions built around specific business needs
- Save up to 90% on international data roaming charges compared with local domestic operators
- Enable BlackBerry, smartphones, tablets, laptops and any device that needs data connectivity
- Data coverage in 216 countries worldwide
- Monthly data usage plans are tailored to individual requirements
- Services operate alongside existing mobile contracts, so there's no need to change supplier
- Managed service for international visitors requiring UK roaming solutions
- One global service, one provider, one bill

EU roaming costs may be falling – but global charges are rising

In the last three years, European regulations have forced a dramatic reduction in the cost of Intra-EU calls and data. By mid-2015, businesses operating only in the EU will benefit further when these roaming charges are potentially going to be eliminated. For global businesses, the outlook is less bright, with network operators continuing to increase roaming rates for popular, non-EU business destinations such as USA, Canada, Brazil, India, Australia, Japan, China and South Africa.

The perfect fit

Our international data solutions are all tailored to align with individual business needs. After auditing your current global mobile data usage and roaming charges, we build a bespoke, business-optimised package providing the geographic coverage and data usage required to empower your mobile workers and reduces mobile expenditure. Our solutions are co-terminous with your existing mobile contracts, so there's no need to change provider.
